SUNNY SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA.

A Place of Resort That Has Many And Varied Attractions.

The Island of Santa Catalina—Something of Its History—Old Voyagers—The Topography of the Country—What There is to See and Enjoy.

AVALEN, Cal., July 30, 1892.

DEAR COURIER-GAZETTE:

Thinking that some of your readers might be interested in a description of one of the principal resorts of Southern California I have taken the liberty of writing a brief description of the place where we are spending our summer outing.

It is situated on the island of Santa Catalina, which is one of the group of the Santa Clara Islands. Bancroft's history of California gives the name of this discoverer as Don Juan Rodriguez Cabrillo, and the date of its discovery as Oct. 6, 1542. This noted navigator called it San Salvador. The next day he sailed north and discovered the bay of San Pedro on the main land, which he called the Bay of Smokes. Afterwards sailing north he landed at numerous places on the main land and discovered the remainder of the Santa Clara group off Santa Barbara. Still later he sailed as far north as Monterey. On his return, while visiting the larger of the islands, he was seized with an illness and died and was buried there. Nearly sixty years later Visenano, pursuing nearly the same route, corroborated the discoveries of Cabrillo and he changed the name of San Salvador to Santa Catalina in honor of one of his vessels.

SANTA CATALINA

Is about 25 miles from the nearest point of the main land, nearly opposite San Pedro, the seaport of Los Angeles, and its twin Clement is about the same distance outside of it. Catalina is about 27 miles long and its greatest width is eight miles and is mountainous its entire length. Its highest peak, called Black Jack, is 2907 feet above the sea, resembling much the conical range. Its shores for the most part are very precipitous, rising from 200 to 1500 feet with numerous canyons or valleys running to the water's edge, forming bays and coves, and retreats for campers. The hillsides forming these canyons are covered with evergreen shrubbery and cacti while the more elevated portions are mostly bare. At the foot of one of the most beautiful canyons lies the little

TOWN OF AVALON

Where we are passing our summer. Imagine a tiny harbor resembling in many points that of our former home. Around its semi-circle are many pretty little cottages and several hamlets, while about 600 of the present population are living in can. houses and tents. Its waters are very clear and calm, and one can look down many feet and see the beautiful mosses, shells and fishes of all colors, forming one immense aquarium. It was a pretty sight when lighted at night and viewed from the quiet little harbor.

The island is owned by the Banning Brothers, who are doing much to make it a very attractive resort. The attractions are numerous, and to a lover of old history and traditions, the island is extremely interesting. It affords one varied kinds of pleasure. The boating is very fine and hunting and fishing unsurpassed. Large fish as well as small are very plentiful and it is a frequent sight to see a hilarious fisherman who has captured the monster blue fish, which varies in size from 50 to 600 pounds. They have sometimes come from the wharf, weighing more than 200 pounds. Oton we saw the whales known as the

CALIFORNIA GRAY-BACKS.

Spouting a few hundred feet off the harbor, and large sea lions and seals feed upon the smaller fish near the shores. The wild geese on the island are countless. Their ancestors were put here years ago by the old mission priests that they and their progeny might serve as a food for shipwrecked sailors. Happily no wreck has ever been known on its shores. The Indians have disappeared, the old monks have gone, but the goats, have multiplied and furnish today abundant amusement for the sportsman. They are often seen in large herds feeding on the southern slopes. The kids are fine eating. Many save the horns of the old bucks and have them polished for ornamental purposes. Hardly a day passes but we see a burro or broncho loaded with the trophies of the chase.

The relic hunters at this season are quite numerous, and daily excursions are made to the isthmus, about fourteen miles north of Avalon, and other points of interest where may be found graves containing relics of other days, such as arrows, spear-heads, mortars and pestles, wampum, and the bones of the old race that inhabited the island centuries ago.

Men and boys often climb the many trails without guides, and strange as it may seem are occasionally lost for days until they can get upon one of the higher peaks and get their bearings. They often endure many hardships while hunting along trails and in the valleys, but feel that they are amply repaid when they open one of those old graves and get the Indian curiosities which have been buried for years with their remains.

The climate here for consumptives has a wonderfully soothing effect, and often makes a complete cure where the case has been thought hopeless. One has the advantage of both sea and mountain air. Some of the trails have been widened so that the carefully trained horses make the longest one, going and returning in a day, affording one a varied and vast amount of pleasure.

CRUEL CASES.

Instances of Man's Cruelty to Man—Almost Incredible.

"Speaking of the severe punishment meted out to Private Iams at Homestead," said Dr. F. A. Smith of Vinalhaven, "reminds me of barbarous treatment that I have seen dealt out by those in command, and to which this Homestead affair is nothing in comparison. In my early days I went on a whaling voyage, and I have seen a man taken at one o'clock in the morning, strung up by the wrists to the main rigging, stripped of all his clothing to the waist, receive four dozen lashes, then sent forward and had salt pickle applied to the wounds, then at seven o'clock the same morning, dealt four dozen more lashes, then made to stay on deck for 24 hours, with nothing for subsistence but dry bread and water. The flogging was done with a piece of tarred rope as large round as a man's finger.

I have also seen two men after having received the same treatment as above, and with nothing but a thin shirt and overalls for clothing, set ashore on the island of Java, where tigers were as plenty, that it was impossible to leave the beach and escape being devoured by the monsters, and that was undoubtedly the fate of the two unfortunates of whom I speak."

DELTA UPSILON

Is the name of a well known college fraternity, which has chapters all over the country. There has been a great influx of Delta Upsilon into this section of late, and a reunion is contemplated for an early day. The members hereabouts are C. F. Richards, S. J. Nowell and H. B. Woods of Rockport, from Colby University, Rev. T. E. Brastow, from William's College; Rev. F. M. Preble, A. H. McKee and J. H. Ogier of Camden, from Colby University; H. M. Lord of Rockland, from Colby University; Harry Shaw of Rockland, from Columbia College; and Blanchard Hicks of Rockland, from Tufts College.

BELFAST RACES.

The races at Belfast, Saturday, Aug. 6, were attended by all the lovers of racing in the vicinity. The 2:40 class had seven entries and was won by Patrol in three straight heats, the best time being 2:40 1-4; the 2:30 class by Ditty D. best time 2:31 3-4. S. J. Gushue's Frank Nelson was second. In the three minute class, there were eight starters, the first money being captured by Prudy, best time 2:37 1-4. The running race was awarded Geo. O. Bailey's Tocar. The Judges were R. L. Winlow, Geo. Grouley and R. W. Sawyer. The races were all hotly contested and proved that Belfast can have as good races as any city in the state.

RAILROAD NOTES.

Conductor Hooper has a new smoker, No. 228. It is a good one. There never before was such a passenger business on the K. & L. Division as now. Who says Pullmans don't pay to Rockland, when they come in with two sleepers and four coaches all filled, and 32 turned away who wanted sleeping cars.

GLEN COVE.

H. C. Weston and wife are stopping at C. M. Studley's. J. B. Young, wife and daughter Gracie are spending their vacation with Mrs. A. Gregory. E. J. Low of Chicago is rusticiating at the home of his niece, Mrs. Chas. J. Gregory. Hattie Yonig, one of the popular teachers of Farmington Normal School, is visiting friends in this place.

CITY REPORTS.

Extracts From Rockland's Annual Literary Magazine.

The city painting bill last year was $311.57. Possibly this bill was $9.33 larger than the above, as there is $7.33 charged to cemetery (labor) and $2 to Pest House (labor) as paint is charged to both.

The March election cost the city $34. for wardens, clerks, cleaning, etc. A part of this item had to be judged because the entries in the reports didn't always designate what for. In some instances the detailed statement reads warden, then clerk, their services, then warden, clerk. This item doesn't include the check lists nor posting notices. There seems to have been one warden or clerk overlooked in making up the book as the figures add up $26 instead of $28.

LOCAL LACONICS.

A. C. Philbrick is making improvements about his house premises. Geo. E. Cross is to build a double tenement house on Granite street. The two sides and rear wall of Synagogue Block are up one story. Full moon Tuesday. Dr. Trussell was in the city Friday walking with crutches. The doctor was once one of the busiest of our busy men.

Native string beans and cucumbers are scarce. F. J. Bicknell has decorated his northern window in a very striking manner. A prominent Boston lawyer, visiting here, saw a piece of sticky fly paper, the other day, and became greatly attached to it. Day & Morse have six men at work, and hard at work, too. They have had 13 men jumping to it. A crew has been at Mirror Lake, putting in the big pump and they are also making repairs to the Sylvia's machinery and relief valves for the Mt. Desert. The Gracia Bell, which has been sold to Bar Harbor parties, is also being put in trim.

W. A. LUCE.

Handsome Place of Business—New Carleton Block.

The other week we described the quarters of the Camden Savings Bank in the new Carleton Block, Rockport. This week we have a word to say about the other half of the ground floor which is occupied by W. A. Luce for his grocery and gent's furnishing business. Mr. Luce occupies the entire floor and basement, and in addition to this uses Union Hall for his furniture department. The new store is 70 feet deep, 22 feet wide and 12 feet high. It is well lighted, the front being of plate-glass with mammoth show windows. The interior is finished in white wood with birch floor. Handsome show cases, hat cases and the like are arranged on each side, while in the rear, at the left, is a very comfortable and handsomely furnished office.

The store is supplied with the most modern and improved fixtures, refrigerators, etc., and the whole together gives Mr. Luce one of the finest places of business of the sort east of Portland.

Mr. Luce is the son of Capt. W. H. Luce and wife of South Thomaston. He has been in business in Rockport since 1886, and is a capable, energetic and thorough business man. Ralph Spear and Fred Sylvester are his wide awake assistants and Miss Fannie Fuller is the competent book-keeper.

MINISTERIAL ASSOCIATION.

The Rockland District Ministerial Association of the M. E. Church will meet at Rockport in October, the date not yet fixed. The committee have announced the following program: Social Winding—Systematic and Revival. Inter Denominational Conv. Now solution of the liquor question needed—What is it? Literary relation of Methodist children to the M. E. Church. What shall be the teaching of the church concerning the labor question? There will also be preaching and devotional services.

DIXMONT.

The chestnut gelding Dixmont, the property of Burges & Bowers of Rockport, has been doing good work in the races at Bangor and Old Orchard. Dixmont was sired by Olympus, he by Almont, 2:33. His dam was Dennis Lambert, he by Daniel Lambert. Dixmont stands 16-3 hands, is seven years old, weighs about 1000 pounds and is a perfect roadster. He was bought of A. T. Maxim of South Paris.

Dixmont trots in the Belfast, Oldtown, Milo and Exeter races.

COUNTY CHAT AND COMMENT.

Matters of Interest to all the Residents of Prosperous Knox.

Summer Guests and Profit to the County—Bay Point and its Mission—Union and the George's Valley Railroad—General Building Activity.

Knox County is now at the height of its Summer season, and every town in the county is getting a taste of the unusual activity and social life. In this city The Thorndike is taxed to its utmost capacity to care for the army of transients, while Major Greenbush at the Lindsey House, Mrs. Morse at the Stockpole House and the other city hostesses are doing a fine business. At Bay Point the big addition made last Winter has proven altogether too small for the hotel's patrons, and the private parlors and billiard rooms even have been converted at times into sleeping apartments. It is probable, indeed, that another big addition will be made this Winter, as many of the guests who have been here this Summer, have made arrangements for rooms for next season, for themselves and friends. Every person who has visited Bay Point this season has become a walking and talking advertisement of the beauties and comfort of the house.

That Bay Point is a great benefit to our city and county all must admit. A visit on any pleasant day to our city streets, where the Bay Point people spend their money, a talk with our livery men who let them teams, and a chat with the county farmers who provide garden truck for the tables will clear away any doubts on this subject.

That Bay Point is a success and so decided a success is due in the main to the energy, persistency and courage of A. F. Crockett of this city. Mr. Crockett was the prime mover in the building of the hotel, and in the face of almost numberless discouragements has persevered until Bay Point is one of the two Summer resorts of Maine this year which is doing business to its full capacity, the other being Poland Springs. All honor where honor is due.

Camden is having an excellent season, and the hotel men report that while there have not been so many regular hotel guests as usual the transient business has been of a character to more than make amends. The cottages are well filled, and at Lake City the new hotel, now being furnished, has promise of fine patronage.

Thomaston has many visitors, while the other county towns are not overlooked by those seeking good air and beautiful scenery.

Union and the George's Valley Railroad are again attracting attention, and several newspaper articles have appeared on the subject, which have been largely a repetition of the figures and facts collated by THE G. several years ago when the railroad interest was at its height. Union has just as much railroad interest now as ever, and while there is not as much smoke, we venture to say there is more real fire. Some of the facts regarding this proposed road will bear repetition:

Three years ago some of the practical business men of Union organized the George's Valley Railroad Co., under the general laws of the state. The officers and directors were and still are: J. W. Thurston, president; B. B. Burton, secretary; O. A. Brackett, treasurer; E. H. Burdett, E. L. Thompson, Jason Perkins, A. F. Brown, Joel Hills, directors.

A town meeting was called and the town promptly voted the legal limit of their valuation—five per cent.—amounting to $4,500 in aid of the enterprise. Private subscription raised this amount to $15,000 at once and this has grown to over $19,000.

Union is a very rich farming community. It ranks second in the State in the value of its products. The population is about 1,500. Its valuation $620,000. The line when built will extend eight miles to the Knox & Lincoln railroad at Warren. It can be built almost as straight as the crow flies along the banks of Seven Tree and White Oak ponds, and almost on a water level. There is a difference of but two and one-half feet in the level of Warren station and the terminus at Union Common. But two bridges are to be built in all that distance and two stations, one at the Common and one at South Union.

Estimates as to the cost vary from $2,000 to $11,000. This level, fertile valley extends to Belfast, and in time, no doubt, the road will be completed to Burnside.

The activity in building matters still continues throughout the country, and comfortable houses are going up in all quarters. The past year has certainly been a good one for joiners, masons and painters.

LAWN PARTY.

Our Vinalhaven Friends Have a Very Delightful Time.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Atkins of Jamaica Plain, Mass., who are spending the summer at Vinalhaven with Smith Hopkins, gave a lawn party Thursday evening which was a very pleasant affair. There were present as invited guests: C. B. Vinal, wife and daughter Flora, Frank L. Arey, wife and daughter Louise, Winslow Roberts and wife, J. S. Clark, wife and daughter Sylvia, D. S. Mullin, wife and daughter Bortha and son Seth, Charles Hopkins and wife, O. P. Lyons, John S. Luce and wife, Calvin Smith and wife, Ed Burgess and children, Guy Sam, and Carrie, Mrs. J. L. Arey and son Arthur.

Mr. and Mrs. Atkins are delightful entertainers; and their charming little daughters, Catherine and Marjorie, together with Mr. and Mrs. Hopkins, assisted in making the party a grand success.

When all had arrived Mrs. Atkins, who is an excellent amateur photographer, made a group picture of all present, after which refreshments were served; and, by the way, refreshments seems a tame word to express the splendid fare that was provided.

After the inner man was satisfied and the gentleman had indulged a fragrant Havana, the game of "Donkey" was introduced, from which a great deal of fun was elicited. The prizes for placing the caudal appendage nearest where it should be, were won by J. S. Clark and Miss Louise Arey, while the booby prizes were captured by C. B. Vinal and Mrs. D. S. Mullin. This is Mr. and Mrs. Atkins' second season at Vinalhaven, and we hope it is only the beginning of an end and a far off.

Increased real estate activity between Rockland and Rockport is one of the results of the Electric Railroad. Some important realty deals are reported in this issue.

Twenty-one years ago the triangular lot at the junction of Main and Water streets, on which the Gen'l. Berry horse house now stands, cost the city $1100. How much would it sell for today? There were croakers then.

Capt. Alabama Gross has opened a candy and treat store in a little building erected north of J. R. Richardson's place of business, Main street. The worthy captain deserves and we hope will get a large patronage.

Pound-keeper Clark made a seizure of a contraband cow on Park street, Tuesday afternoon. There was quite a contest between the owner of the cow and the pound-keeper but the officer of the city prevailed and lived his boy.

The Osbornes continue to get some mackerel. C. E. Weeks & Co. received 20 barrels of big ones by schooner Ida Grover, Friday, and the same number from steamer Hurricane. They were caught off Matineas. They ran 60 tons barrel.

The New York building strike is off, and there is prospect of better times in the time business, although the accumulated supply on hand in New York is not yet exhausted, and so the business here has thus far felt no change.

The Free Baptist Sunday School will picnic at Oakland Wednesday, Saturday, next fair day. They will start from the church at 9 o'clock a. m. and ride to Oakland in the electric cars. The Sunday Schools at Blackington's Corner and Rockville will also picnic at Oakland Wednesday.

Tilston Light Infantry returned Saturday night from Augusta after a hard and active week in camp. They were ranked as the banner team for size and made a very creditable showing. J. W. Gray, inspector of rifle practice, participated in the inspector's shoot, and was one of the five who came in second.

The Maine Central excursion to Old Orchard and Peaks Island Sunday took considering the weather a goodly number from Rockland. Before arriving at the beach they were hauling a long train of fourteen cars, all packed with people bent on passing a pleasant Sunday. The day proved fine and the only drawback experienced was the lateness in arriving home.

In the window of F. F. Burpee's drug store is a picture of three of Rockland's well known bolder boys, enlarged from a tintype taken at "The Front". Mr. Burpee owned the tintype and he had it enlarged. The three soldiers are George Wall, Charles P. Wood and J. C. Spear. Of these the first two are dead, the third being the present efficient janitor of the Custom House. They were three good soldiers, and the picture calls up many very touching recollections.

Shocks—W. B. Hills is having his house painted. He has done it. He also shows Tuesday evening and a drenching rain Thursday night and Friday helped the Fall feed and gardens. There is great interest shown in "Living Whist" to be given in Farwell Opera House this evening for the benefit of the Public Library. The E. B. Ingraham market building is being painted. The electric railroad is now an old story and attracts little attention. Mackerel are plenty in the bay, but are shy of the jig.

OLD GERMAN CHURCH.

There will be preaching in the Old German Church at Waldboro on Sunday, August 28, at two o'clock p. m., by Rev. D. B. Phelan.

POMONA GRANGE.

Will hold a convention on Washington Campground, Sept. 8, to commence at 10 a. m. Able speakers from the State Grange are expected and a fine program is being prepared for the occasion.

TELEPHONE TOPICS.

Work on the telephone line to Union will begin as soon as the Telephone Co. gets a permit from the Rockland city authorities to erect its line through this city.

The poles in this city are being changed off the line of the electric railroad as far as possible, and the wires removed from Main street buildings.

LAND BONDED.

J. E. Hanly, esq., of Boston has bonded the Larkin farm at Glen Cove. This farm is situated on the left at the summit of Gregory Hill, and stretches down to the shore, including the handsome rocky coastline on the northern shore of Glen Cove. Mr. Hanly has also bought two acres of Gregory Grove, on the west side of road, this side of Glen Cove, near where the well known gipsy camp is.

"LIVING WHIST"

Will be played in Farwell Opera House tonight by Rockland talent, under the direction of R. C. Rankin. The players are Nathaniel Jones, Capt. W. P. Huxford, J. B. Foster and C. E. Littlefield. The cards are represented by some of our best known people. The Kings are Messrs. A. H. Jones, A. M. Miller, Fred Simonon, of this city and Charles Copeland of Boston; the Queens are Mrs. M. B. Curtis of Manchester, N. H., Mrs. A. H. Berry, Miss Teresa Rankin and Miss Lulu Bennett. The Jacks are Frank Weeks, H. H. Crockett, Will Graves and James H. McNamara. The costumes are very beautiful, and the dancing graceful. A grand ball follows the game.

The proceeds will be devoted to the Free Public Library fund. There are good seats yet remaining unsold.

CONSPIRACY CHARGED.

A rather unusual and what has developed into an important case was before Trial Justice R. K. Ulmer yesterday. The principals in the affair are George H. Brown, Mrs. Brown, O. Larabee and Frank Flinders, all of this city. Sunday Mrs. Brown was arrested on a warrant issued by her husband, charging adultery which was alleged to have occurred at Dix Island, July 20.

Larabee was brought on as a witness, but not, however, until Brown had been removed to another room. He, having no knowledge of Brown's testimony, told an altogether different story. Larabee then broke down completely, stating that the whole thing was a conspiracy, instigated by Brown.

Mrs. Brown was discharged, but the husband was held for trial on the charge of conspiracy today.

PASTOR AND PULPIT.

The Movements of the Ministers, and Church Echoes.

Rev. C. S. Cummins and family go to Paris, this week. Last Sunday Mr. Cummins preached at the Union Square Church, Portland, and at Paris the 21st. He will also preach at Poland Campmeeting the 18th.

Mr. Cummins is also in demand as a lecturer and will deliver a Masonic address at Jefferson, Sept. 7.—Rev. W. C. Barrows preached a very able sermon in the First Baptist Church, Sunday morning. There was a general prayer meeting in the evening. Last evening an offering meeting in aid of the new Baptist Church in Friendship. Today the Quarterly Meeting is held at No. Haven.

Rev. C. H. DeBarrow will preach at St. Peter's Church next Sunday at both the morning and evening services. He will also give an illustrated lecture at St. Peter's Church on Wednesday, Aug. 24, on "The Early History of Christianity." The lecture will be illustrated by 80 to 100 line light pictures, and is intensely interesting. The same lecture will be delivered in Thomaston, Thursday, Aug. 25.—(Rev. S. E. Packard has returned from Boston, and with his family goes to Waldboro where after a brief visit they go to Hopedale, where Mr. Packard begins his labors Sept. 1. He is a faithful and able clergyman and leaves many warm friends here who wish him abundant success in his new field.

Amusements and Announcements.

Watch for Maine Central announcement for Sept. 11.

Living Whist in Farwell Opera House tonight for the Public Library Fund. A good seat can be secured for fifty cents, which entitles the holder to participation in the ball that follows.

The Boston Comic Opera Company, who are now in the state, will probably make a date in this city. They are composed of good material and will afford us an evening's amusement that will be worth the admission.

The new dancing pavilion at Oakland will be opened to-morrow, Wednesday evening, with a grand ball. Meservy's Quintet will furnish music. A. H. Baker is in charge. They seem good order and good management.

A very enjoyable excursion is announced for next Sunday, Aug. 21. The steamer Glen Bodwell has been chartered and will leave Tilston wharf at 7:30, sharp, and make the run along the coast to Boothbay arriving at destination at 12 noon. The fare for the round trip is only 61. Cheaper than staying at home.

Venous Jarbeau and her excellent company of comedians appear at the Opera House, one week from to-morrow, Tuesday, August 24, in three comedy. Although Jarbeau has never appeared in Rockland the company is well known to our amusement goers as one of the brightest and strongest that are on the circuit. They play in all the largest cities and recently filled an engagement in New York city. Tickets for reserved seats will be on sale at the box office and the investment will pay well for there will be fun enough to last one a whole week.

BAY POINT.

Still Crowded to Overflowing—Other Noted Arrivals.

The Bay Point has every room taken, and the private parlors have been fitted up as chambers to accommodate guests. The party is made up of some of the best known people in the country, and they are thoroughly enjoying the good air, scenery, food, music, and good company. It is a very congenial crowd, bent on having a good time, and evidently having it.

Gen. Fitz John Porter is one of the noticeable figures at Bay Point.

Hon. F. E. Richards and wife of Portland are among the well known guests.

Mrs. Charles Cushman of Cambridge, Mass., friend of E. J. Wardwell, comes this week.

Arthur White and family returned to New York Sunday evening. They have been great favorites.

W. M. Snow and family returned to Boston today. Mr. Snow has been one of the jolliest of the guests.

Dr. E. L. Estabrook, wife, child and nurse of New York occupy one of the cottages, but will move into the hotel when there is opportunity.

Saturday evening a children's entertainment was given, in which all of the little folks participated, and it was one of the most unique and enjoyable of the season.

A singular game of whist was played at Bay Point one day last week. The players were Mr. Simmons, Sam'l P. Fossenden, of Stamford, Conn., Col. Rogers of Chicago and E. J. Wardwell of Cambridge, Mass. The ace of spades was cut four consecutive times, and the odd trick taken each of the four times.

Ex-Speaker T. B. Reed of Portland, J. C. Titcomb of Brooklyn, Mrs. I. A. Allen of St. Louis and Miss B. Van Horne of Zanesville, Ill., are the guests of S. V. White of New York. On the way here they stopped off at Bath to see the iron plant, and came here by special train, Saturday evening. They are highly delighted with Bay Point.

A very large audience enjoyed Sunday evening's concert. The instrumental numbers were these: "William Tell" overture, "Schubert's Serenade" for cornet, "Battiste's 'Poem of Love'" selection from Mercantile's "La Vestale," "Till's Serenade for flute and cello, a selection of Gillet's and "Tannhauser" march. With these selections, and Prouty and his four assistants to render them, the guests of the house were furnished a very rich musical treat.

The overture was wonderfully well handled, while the cello and flute duo was a gem. Vocal numbers were furnished by Wm. E. Cooper of New York, Mr. Lord of this city, there being one vocal duet by Messrs. Lord and Prouty. Mr. Cooper, who returns home this week, is a cultivated baritone, and his "Come Unto Me," by Miss Lindsey was rendered with especial feeling and skill. We hope he may visit Bay Point again next season so that none of our people may have the opportunity of hearing him.

Arriving in Portland, they were met at Union Station by Charles's father, and escorted to the island steamer, in which they proceeded to Peaks Island. The Portland Press says:

"They bore their banner with them, a handsome affair, and they looked exceedingly well in their rich regalia."

At the island all the sights were seen and a fine fish dinner enjoyed at the Peaks Island House. Many of the Chevaliers visited places of interest in Portland. Returns were made by special train during the evening. The members express themselves as delighted with their trip, and express gratitude at services rendered by Conductor Joseph Chandler of Portland and Elmer Woodbury of Brunswick.

EXCELLENT CHOICE.

Knox County First, Last, and all the Time.

The School Board has chosen Victor V. Thompson of Friendship and Miss Euellie F. Ames of South Thomaston, master and first lady assistant, respectively of our High School.
